WEEKLY REFLECTION

CORPUS CHRISTI

Fr. Robert Foliot, SJ

After having been tortured by the Iroquois but eventually escaping, St. Isaac Jogues volunteered to return to the Iroquois as an ambassador of peace and reconciliation. What terrified Isaac most about returning was not being tortured again, but being deprived of Mass and Holy Communion.

In July Pope Francis will come to Canada to acknowledge that the Catholic Church was complicit in the evils of colonization and the residential school system. He will apologize. He will repent and will invite the whole Church to repent. He will ask an Indigenous Elder to purify him and all Catholics with their sacred medicines. There will be a sign of peace. There will be Eucharist. The Pope and the whole Catholic Church will be made one with Indigenous Peoples in the Body of Christ. Unafraid to shamefully admit the truth of having benefitted from Canada's sinful history, let each one of us commit ourselves in Holy Communion to reconciliation.
