WEEKLY REFLECTION

On Pride and Humility.

When we contemplate on today's Gospel, we find ourselves accompanying Jesus on His teaching journey about so many good values in life, that will help us in our journey in life to a life of Peace, Joy and Happiness in the eyes of God our Creator. He had very little time to teach us so much, which was very difficult given the fact that He was so upset with the present hard heartedness of the temple teachers of the law, the scribes and the Pharisees, who were truly not in tune with doing the will of the Heavenly Father, and instead laid heavy burdens of the many observances of the Sabbath law, which enslaved the people in fear and guilt. To Him, they were truly the blind guides leading the innocent blind. Teaching them, how to love and serve humanity with all his teachings was a mammoth task to be accomplished in the very short span of his teaching and healing life on this earth.

Today's teaching on Pride and humility was a game changer for all the respectable teachers of the law, who wished to see themselves glorified in the eyes of mankind, instead of God. We ourselves have witnessed in our own times, of many sports super winners that they are seen in great glory on their achievements, and are condemned the next day for a human fault. Jesus tells us that we need to be seen doing good in the eyes of God, rather than the eyes of human kind. For what we do in secret in the eyes of God will be eventually greatly rewarded by Him who wants and needs us to work in this great harvest on this earth.
