WEEKLY REFLECTION

Compañía

In his native Spanish language, St. Ignatius of Loyola would have known the Society of Jesus, Jesuits, as the 'Compañía Jesus'. The word compañía originated 1,500 years earlier with the soldiers of the Roman army, having their meals together.

The Latin words 'com' (with) and 'panis' (bread) when combined, became 'compañía', referring first of all to sharing a meal, sharing bread. Later on, the word referred to friendship and accompaniment.

We can think of the disciples and apostles as companions of Jesus, sharing meals with him, coming to know God's love through Jesus, and being asked by Jesus to assist him in carrying on his mission. What about ourselves, individually and communally, as 'companions of Jesus,' being in the company of Jesus? Christ accompanying us as individuals, with our families, in our parish churches, accompanying people in their lifelong pilgrimages, to the end of our pilgrimages, as we enter eternal life. Christ presents to us in the Eucharist.
