Reverends Patrick Coldricks, Wayne Bolton, Stephen LeBlanc, Robert Foliot & Michael Knox.

WEEKLY REFLECTION

As graduation season comes to a close, we may reflect on our school years being some of the most formative times in our lives. Students learn how to socialize, better manage their time, and act more professionally. These skills, and others, enable us to forge friendships and find success in our careers and oftentimes, our faith lives.

Pope Francis once said, "Journeying is precisely the art of looking toward the horizon, thinking where I want to go but also enduring the fatigue of the journey, which is sometimes difficult. ... There are dark days, even days when we fail, even days when we fall ... but always think of this: Don't be afraid of failures. Don't be afraid of falling ... This is working every day, this is journeying as humans. But also, it's bad walking alone: It's bad and boring. Walking in community, with friends, with those who love us, that helps us. It helps us to arrive precisely at that goal, that 'there where' we're supposed to arrive."

His message serves as a reminder that our position as students doesn't conclude upon graduation from high school or college, but that we forever embody the title of 'student', and that the people around us have an important role in forming us as we age into and throughout our adulthood. It also speaks to our responsibility of assuming the role of 'teacher' which is to listen, to assist and to help the people around us as they form as lifelong students themselves.
